

College League Rules

The College League is run by the Cambridge University Women's Basketball Club, with the aim of giving access to the sport of basketball to all women and non-binary students of the University of Cambridge. With this in mind, the College League strives to create a positive environment where players can enjoy themselves as well as develop their basketball skills. In order to achieve this, a set of rules has been designed, and its non-compliance may result in expulsion from the College League.

Format of the College League:

Michaelmas Term:

Cambridge University Women's Basketball Club provides training sessions every Saturday at the Kelsey Kerridge Sports Centre from 9:45am to 11:00am. These are open to all women and non-binary students who wish to take part. A £15 fee will be charged for the whole term.

Lent Term:

Depending on number of players, a 3x3 or 5x5 League will be drawn up. Both single and mixed college teams will be accepted, and if any player should find themselves without a team, they may contact the College League Officer who will provide information on any spots available. A £130* fee will be charged to register a team.

Rules:

1. Unsportsmanlike behaviour, towards other players or coaches, of any kind will not be tolerated.
2. Punctuality when attending the training sessions and games is essential.
3. Payments must be completed by the set deadlines.
4. Appropriate sportswear must be worn to training sessions and games.
5. Teams who want to play in the League in Lent will have to be registered by the set deadline.
6. All material used in the training sessions and matches is property of CUWBbC or associated organisations and it is not to be taken outside the sports hall by the players.
